ACADEMIC COSTUME

In the medieval universities, students and teachers wore gowns indicating their status and scholastic achievements. European institutions still show great diversity in the specifications of academic dress, but American colleges and universities preferred to adopt some definite system which all could follow. Accordingly in 1895, at Columbia University, an intercollegiate commission drafted a uniform code for the use of caps, gowns and hoods. These standards, with few revisions, are still in effect. Broward County Junior College will follow the Academic Costume Code.

Four academic degrees are generally recognized: the associate, the bachelor, the master, and the doctor. The associate degrees (associate in arts and associate in sciences) are offered by the standard two-year junior colleges. The other three are conferred by universities and colleges. The bachelor's, or baccalaureate, degree takes its name directly from the medieval practice of "bachelors" wearing a garland of bayberries. The master's degree was equivalent to a license to teach, and sometimes was followed by the express words Licentia Docendi. The doctor's degree was originally a title of respect, and a recognition of great learning. Today, the doctor's degree when earned by study indicates advanced study and independent research in a specialized field of learning. Honorary degrees are granted for meritorious service and for distinction in public or private endeavor.

Those holding a bachelor's degree wear a black gown fastened at the top, distinguished by long pointed sleeves hanging nearly to the knees. The master's gown, worn open, has long closed sleeves with an arc of a circle appearing near the bottom and a slit for the arm near the middle of the sleeves. The doctor's gown, usually worn open, is made of silk, faced with a broad strip of velvet, and has three bars of velvet on each sleeve.

A hood made of the same material may be worn with the gown. The bachelor's hood is three feet long, with a two-inch strip of velvet; the master's hood is three and one-half feet long, faced with a three-inch strip of velvet; the doctor's hood is four feet long, faced with a five-inch strip of velvet. The color of the tassel or the velvet strip on the hood indicates the field of study in which the degree was earned or granted, as for example: ARTS, white; SCIENCE, golden yellow; EDUCATION light blue; MUSIC, pink; LIBRARY SCHOOL, lemon yellow; BUSINESS, drab; JOURNALISM, crimson; LAW, purple; THEOLOGY, scarlet; PHILOSOPHY, dark blue. Each hood is also lined in silk with the colors of the institution which granted the degree, as for example, garnet and gold for Florida State University, orange and blue for the University of Florida.

The appropriate cap for all degrees is the familiar black "mortar board." A tassel, black or a color signifying the field of specialization, is worn hanging to the left of the face. Those holding a doctor's degree may wear a soft velvet cap of the color indicating their field of study, or with the mortar board, may wear a tassel in whole or in part of gold thread.

The mace, carried by the parade marshal, is a symbol of the authority vested in the college president. In medieval times, it was a weapon of war which was effective against the strongest armor and was used chiefly by knights. Maces were often borne by a royal bodyguard to protect the king in processions, but in the course of time (by the 14th century) they assumed more ceremonial functions and lost their warlike appearance. A mace is carried in academic and ecclesiastical processions, particularly in English-speaking countries.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

In the medieval universities, students and teachers wore gowns indicating their status and scholastic achievements, European institutions still show great diversity in the specifications of academic dress, but American colleges and universities preferred to adopt some definite system which all could follow. Accordingly in 1895, at Columbia University, an intercollegiate commission drafted a uniform code for the use of caps, gowns and hoods. These standards, with few revisions, are still in effect. Broward Community College will follow the Academic Costume Code.

Four academic degrees are generally recognized: the associate, the bachelor, the master, and the doctor. The associate degrees (associate in arts and associate in sciences) are offered by the standard two-year junior colleges. The other three are conferred by universities and colleges. The bachelor's, or baccalaureate, degree takes its name directly from the medieval practice of "bachelors" wearing a garland of bayberries. The master's degree was equivalent to a license to teach, and sometimes was followed by the express words Licentia Docendi. The doctor's degree was originally a title of respect, and a recognition of great learning. Today, the doctor's degree when earned by study indicates advanced study and independent research in a specialized field of learning. Honorary degrees are granted for meritorious service and for distinction in public or private endeavor.

Those holding a bachelor's degree wear a black gown fastened at the top, distinguished by long pointed sleeves hanging nearly to the knees. The master's gown, worn open, has long closed sleeves with an arc of a circle appearing near the bottom and a slit for the arm near the middle of the sleeves. The doctor's gown, usually worn open, is made of silk, faced with a broad strip of velvet, and has three bars of velvet on each sleeve.

A hood made of the same material may be worn with the gown. The bachelor's hood is three feet long, with a two-inch strip of velvet; the master's hood is three and one-half feet long, faced with a three-inch strip of velvet; the doctor's hood is four feet long, faced with a five-inch strip of velvet. The color of the tassel or the velvet strip on the hood indicates the field of study in which the degree was earned or granted, as for example: ARTS, white; SCIENCE, golden yellow; EDUCATION, light blue; MUSIC, pink; LIBRARY SCHOOL, lemon yellow; BUSINESS, drab; JOURNALISM, crimson; LAW, purple; THEOLOGY, scarlet; PHILOSOPHY, dark blue. Each hood is also lined in silk with the colors of the institution which granted the degree, as for example, garnet and gold for Florida State University, orange and blue for the University of Florida.

The appropriate cap for all degrees is the familiar black "mortar board." A tassel, black or a color signifying the field of specialization, is worn hanging to the left of the face. Those holding a doctor's degree may wear a soft velvet cap of the color indicating their field of study, or with the mortar board, may wear a tassel in whole or in part of gold thread.

The mace, carried by the parade marshal, is a symbol of the authority vested in the college president. In medieval times, it was a weapon of war which was effective against the strongest armor and was used chiefly by knights. Maces were often borne by a royal bodyguard to protect the king in processions, but in the course of time (by the 14th century) they assumed more ceremonial functions and lost their warlike appearance. A mace is carried in academic and ecclesiastical processions, particularly in English-speaking countries.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

In the medieval universities, students and teachers wore gowns indicating their status and scholastic achievements. European institutions still show great diversity in the specifications of academic dress, but American colleges and universities preferred to adopt some definite system which all could follow. Accordingly in 1895, at Columbia University, an intercollegiate commission drafted a uniform code for the use of caps, gowns and hoods. These standards, with few revisions, are still in effect. Broward Community College will follow the Academic Costume Code.

Four academic degrees are generally recognized: the associate, the bachelor, the master, and the doctor. The associate degrees (associate in arts and associate in sciences) are offered by the standard two-year junior colleges. The other three are conferred by universities and colleges. The bachelor's, or baccalaureate, degree takes its name directly from the medieval practice of "bachelors" wearing a garland of bayberries. The master's degree was equivalent to a license to teach, and sometimes was followed by the express words Licentia Docendi. The doctor's degree was originally a title of respect, and a recognition of great learning. Today, the doctor's degree when earned by study indicates advanced study and independent research in a specialized field of learning. Honorary degrees are granted for meritorious service and for distinction in public or private endeavor.

Those holding a bachelor's degree wear a black gown fastened at the top, distinguished by long pointed sleeves hanging nearly to the knees. The master's gown, worn open, has long closed sleeves with an arc of a circle appearing near the bottom and a slit for the arm near the middle of the sleeves. The doctor's gown, usually worn open, is made of silk, faced with a broad strip of velvet, and has three bars of velvet on each sleeve.

A hood made of the same material may be worn with the gown. The bachelor's hood is three feet long, with a two-inch strip of velvet; the master's hood is three and one-half feet long, faced with a three-inch strip of velvet; the doctor's hood is four feet long, faced with a five-inch strip of velvet. The color of the tassel or the velvet strip on the hood indicates the field of study in which the degree was earned or granted, as for example: ARTS, white; SCIENCE, golden yellow; EDUCATION, light blue; MUSIC, pink; LIBRARY SCHOOL, lemon yellow; BUSINESS, drab; JOURNALISM, crimson; LAW, purple; THEOLOGY, scarlet; PHILOSOPHY, dark blue. Each hood is also lined in silk with the colors of the institution which granted the degree, as for example, garnet and gold for Florida State University, orange and blue for the University of Florida.

The appropriate cap for all degrees is the familiar black "mortar board." A tassel, black or a color signifying the field of specialization, is worn hanging to the left of the face. Those holding a doctor's degree may wear a soft velvet cap of the color indicating their field of study, or with the mortar board, may wear a tassel in whole or in part of gold thread.

The mace, carried by the parade marshal, is a symbol of the authority vested in the college president. In medieval times, it was a weapon of war which was effective against the strongest armor and was used chiefly by knights. Maces were often borne by a royal bodyguard to protect the king in processions, but in the course of time (by the 14th century) they assumed more ceremonial functions and lost their warlike appearance. A mace is carried in academic and ecclesiastical processions, particularly in English-speaking countries.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

In the medieval universities, students and teachers wore gowns indicating their status and scholastic achievements. European institutions still show great diversity in the specifications of academic dress, but American colleges and universities preferred to adopt some definite system which all could follow. Accordingly in 1895, at Columbia University, an intercollegiate commission drafted a uniform code for the use of caps, gowns and hoods. These standards, with few revisions, are still in effect. Broward Community College will follow the Academic Costume Code.

Four academic degrees are generally recognized: the associate, the bachelor, the master, and the doctor. The associate degrees (associate in arts and associate in sciences) are offered by the standard two-year junior colleges. The other three are conferred by universities and colleges. The bachelor's, or baccalaureate, degree takes its name directly from the medieval practice of "bachelors" wearing a garland of bayberries. The master's degree was equivalent to a license to teach, and sometimes was followed by the express words Licentia Docendi. The doctor's degree was originally a title of respect, and a recognition of great learning. Today, the doctor's degree when earned by study indicates advanced study and independent research in a specialized field of learning. Honorary degrees are granted for meritorious service and for distinction in public or private endeavor.

Those holding a bachelor's degree wear a black gown fastened at the top, distinguished by long pointed sleeves hanging nearly to the knees. The master's gown, worn open, has long closed sleeves with an arc of a circle appearing near the bottom and a slit for the arm near the middle of the sleeves. The doctor's gown, usually worn open, is made of silk, faced with a broad strip of velvet, and has three bars of velvet on each sleeve.

A hood made of the same material may be worn with the gown. The bachelor's hood is three feet long, with a two-inch strip of velvet; the master's hood is three and one-half feet long, faced with a three-inch strip of velvet; the doctor's hood is four feet long, faced with a five-inch strip of velvet. The color of the tassel or the velvet strip on the hood indicates the field of study in which the degree was earned or granted, as for example: ARTS, white; SCIENCE, golden yellow; EDUCATION, light blue; MUSIC, pink; LIBRARY SCHOOL, lemon yellow; BUSINESS, drab; JOURNALISM, crimson; LAW, purple; THEOLOGY, scarlet; PHILOSOPHY, dark blue. Each hood is also lined in silk with the colors of the institution which granted the degree, as for example, garnet and gold for Florida State University, orange and blue for the University of Florida.

The appropriate cap for all degrees is the familiar black "mortar board." A tassel, black or a color signifying the field of specialization, is worn hanging to the left of the face. Those holding a doctor's degree may wear a soft velvet cap of the color indicating their field of study, or with the mortar board, may wear a tassel in whole or in part of gold thread.

The mace, carried by the parade marshal, is a symbol of the authority vested in the college president. In medieval times, it was a weapon of war which was effective against the strongest armor and was used chiefly by knights. Maces were often borne by a royal bodyguard to protect the king in processions, but in the course of time (by the 14th century) they assumed more ceremonial functions and lost their warlike appearance. A mace is carried in academic and ecclesiastical processions, particularly in English-speaking countries.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

In the medieval universities, students and teachers wore gowns indicating their status and scholastic achievements. European institutions still show great diversity in the specifications of academic dress, but American colleges and universities preferred to adopt some definite system which all could follow. Accordingly in 1895, at Columbia University, an intercollegiate commission drafted a uniform code for the use of caps, gowns and hoods. These standards, with few revisions, are still in effect. Broward Community College will follow the Academic Costume Code.

Four academic degrees are generally recognized: the associate, the bachelor, the master, and the doctor. The associate degrees (associate in arts and associate in sciences) are offered by the standard two-year junior colleges. The other three are conferred by universities and colleges. The bachelor's, or baccalaureate, degree takes its name directly from the medieval practice of "bachelors" wearing a garland of bayberries. The master's degree was equivalent to a license to teach, and sometimes was followed by the express words Licentia Docendi. The doctor's degree was originally a title of respect, and a recognition of great learning. Today, the doctor's degree when earned by study indicates advanced study and independent research in a specialized field of learning. Honorary degrees are granted for meritorious service and for distinction in public or private endeavor.

Those holding a bachelor's degree wear a black gown fastened at the top, distinguished by long pointed sleeves hanging nearly to the knees. The master's gown, worn open, has long closed sleeves with an arc of a circle appearing near the bottom and a slit for the arm near the middle of the sleeves. The doctor's gown, usually worn open, is made of silk, faced with a broad strip of velvet, and has three bars of velvet on each sleeve.

A hood made of the same material may be worn with the gown. The bachelor's hood is three feet long, with a two-inch strip of velvet; the master's hood is three and one-half feet long, faced with a three-inch strip of velvet; the doctor's hood is four feet long, faced with a five-inch strip of velvet. The color of the tassel or the velvet strip on the hood indicates the field of study in which the degree was earned or granted, as for example: ARTS, white; SCIENCE, golden yellow; EDUCATION, light blue; MUSIC, pink; LIBRARY SCHOOL, lemon yellow; BUSINESS, drab; JOURNALISM, crimson; LAW, purple; THEOLOGY, scarlet; PHILOSOPHY, dark blue. Each hood is also lined in silk with the colors of the institution which granted the degree, as for example, garnet and gold for Florida State University, orange and blue for the University of Florida.

The appropriate cap for all degrees is the familiar black "mortar board." A tassel, black or a color signifying the field of specialization, is worn hanging to the left of the face. Those holding a doctor's degree may wear a soft velvet cap of the color indicating their field of study, or with the mortar board, may wear a tassel in whole or in part of gold thread.

The mace, carried by the parade marshal, is a symbol of the authority vested in the college president. In medieval times, it was a weapon of war which was effective against the strongest armor and was used chiefly by knights. Maces were often borne by a royal bodyguard to protect the king in processions, but in the course of time (by the 14th century) they assumed more ceremonial functions and lost their warlike appearance. A mace is carried in academic and ecclesiastical processions, particularly in English-speaking countries.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

In the medieval universities, students and teachers wore gowns indicating their status and scholastic achievements. European institutions still show great diversity in the specifications of academic dress, but American colleges and universities preferred to adopt some definite system which all could follow. Accordingly in 1895, at Columbia University, an intercollegiate commission drafted a uniform code for the use of caps, gowns and hoods. These standards, with few revisions, are still in effect. Broward Community College will follow the Academic Costume Code.

Four academic degrees are generally recognized: the associate, the bachelor, the master, and the doctor. The associate degrees (associate in arts and associate in sciences) are offered by the standard two-year junior colleges. The other three are conferred by universities and colleges. The bachelor's, or baccalaureate, degree takes its name directly from the medieval practice of "bachelors" wearing a garland of bayberries. The master's degree was equivalent to a license to teach, and sometimes was followed by the express words Licentia Docendi. The doctor's degree was originally a title of respect, and a recognition of great learning. Today, the doctor's degree when earned by study indicates advanced study and independent research in a specialized field of learning. Honorary degrees are granted for meritorious service and for distinction in public or private endeavor.

Those holding a bachelor's degree wear a black gown fastened at the top, distinguished by long pointed sleeves hanging nearly to the knees. The master's gown, worn open, has long closed sleeves with an arc of a circle appearing near the bottom and a slit for the arm near the middle of the sleeves. The doctor's gown, usually worn open, is made of silk, faced with a broad strip of velvet, and has three bars of velvet on each sleeve.

A hood made of the same material may be worn with the gown. The bachelor's hood is three feet long, with a two-inch strip of velvet; the master's hood is three and one-half feet long, faced with a three-inch strip of velvet; the doctor's hood is four feet long, faced with a five-inch strip of velvet. The color of the tassel or the velvet strip on the hood indicates the field of study in which the degree was earned or granted, as for example: ARTS, white; SCIENCE, golden yellow; EDUCATION, light blue; MUSIC, pink; LIBRARY SCHOOL, lemon yellow; BUSINESS, drab; JOURNALISM, crimson; LAW, purple; THEOLOGY, scarlet; PHILOSOPHY, dark blue. Each hood is also lined in silk with the colors of the institution which granted the degree, as for example, garnet and gold for Florida State University, orange and blue for the University of Florida.

The appropriate cap for all degrees is the familiar black "mortar board." A tassel, black or a color signifying the field of specialization, is worn hanging to the left of the face. Those holding a doctor's degree may wear a soft velvet cap of the color indicating their field of study, or with the mortar board, may wear a tassel in whole or in part of gold thread.

The mace, carried by the parade marshal, is a symbol of the authority vested in the college president. In medieval times, it was a weapon of war which was effective against the strongest armor and was used chiefly by knights. Maces were often borne by a royal bodyguard to protect the king in processions, but in the course of time (by the 14th century) they assumed more ceremonial functions and lost their warlike appearance. A mace is carried in academic and ecclesiastical processions, particularly in English-speaking countries.

PICTURE TAKING

Parents and guests of graduating students may take pictures at any time during the presentation of degrees. The area immediately in front of the lectern has been designated as an area from which you may take pictures. Because space is limited, we ask that when you are finished you return to your seat so that others may have the same opportunity.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

In the medieval universities, students and teachers wore gowns indicating their status and scholastic achievements. European institutions still show great diversity in the specifications of academic dress, but American colleges and universities preferred to adopt some definite system which all could follow. Accordingly in 1895, at Columbia University, an intercollegiate commission drafted a uniform code for the use of caps, gowns and hoods. These standards, with few revisions, are still in effect. Broward Community College will follow the Academic Costume Code.

Four academic degrees are generally recognized: the associate, the bachelor, the master, and the doctor. The associate degrees (associate in arts and associate in sciences) are offered by the standard two-year junior colleges. The other three are conferred by universities and colleges. The bachelor's, or baccalaureate, degree takes its name directly from the medieval practice of "bachelors" wearing a garland of bayberries. The master's degree was equivalent to a license to teach, and sometimes was followed by the express words Licentia Docendi. The doctor's degree was originally a title of respect, and a recognition of great learning. Today, the doctor's degree when earned by study indicates advanced study and independent research in a specialized field of learning. Honorary degrees are granted for meritorious service and for distinction in public or private endeavor.

Those holding a bachelor's degree wear a black gown fastened at the top, distinguished by long pointed sleeves hanging nearly to the knees. The master's gown, worn open, has long closed sleeves with an arc of a circle appearing near the bottom and a slit for the arm near the middle of the sleeves. The doctor's gown, usually worn open, is made of silk, faced with a broad strip of velvet, and has three bars of velvet on each sleeve.

A hood made of the same material may be worn with the gown. The bachelor's hood is three feet long, with a two-inch strip of velvet; the master's hood is three and one-half feet long, faced with a three-inch strip of velvet; the doctor's hood is four feet long, faced with a five-inch strip of velvet. The color of the tassel or the velvet strip on the hood indicates the field of study in which the degree was earned or granted, as for example: ARTS, white; SCIENCE, golden yellow; EDUCATION, light blue; ENGINEERING, orange; MUSIC, pink; LIBRARY SCHOOL, lemon yellow; BUSINESS, drab; JOURNALISM, crimson; LAW, purple; THEOLOGY, scarlet; PHILOSOPHY, dark blue. Each hood is also lined in silk with the colors of the institution which granted the degree, as for example, garnet and gold for Florida State University, orange and blue for the University of Florida.

The appropriate cap for all degrees is the familiar black "mortar board." A tassel, black or a color signifying the field of specialization, is worn hanging to the left of the face. Those holding a doctor's degree may wear a soft velvet cap of the color indicating their field of study, or with the mortar board, may wear a tassel in whole or in part of gold thread.

The mace, carried by the parade marshal, is a symbol of the authority vested in the college president. In medieval times, it was a weapon of war which was effective against the strongest armor and was used chiefly by knights. Maces were often borne by a royal bodyguard to protect the king in processions, but in the course of time (by the 14th century) they assumed more ceremonial functions and lost their warlike appearance. A mace is carried in academic and ecclesiastical processions, particularly in English-speaking countries.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

In the medieval universities, students and teachers wore gowns indicating their status and scholastic achievements. European institutions still show great diversity in the specifications of academic dress, but American colleges and universities preferred to adopt some definite system which all could follow. Accordingly in 1895, at Columbia University, an intercollegiate commission drafted a uniform code for the use of caps, gowns and hoods. These standards, with few revisions, are still in effect. Broward Community College will follow the Academic Costume Code.

Four academic degrees are generally recognized: the associate, the bachelor, the master, and the doctor. The associate degrees (associate in arts and associate in sciences) are offered by the standard two-year junior colleges. The other three are conferred by universities and colleges. The bachelor's, or baccalaureate, degree takes its name directly from the medieval practice of "bachelors" wearing a garland of bayberries. The master's degree was equivalent to a license to teach, and sometimes was followed by the express words Licentia Docendi. The doctor's degree was originally a title of respect, and a recognition of great learning. Today, the doctor's degree when earned by study indicates advanced study and independent research in a specialized field of learning. Honorary degrees are granted for meritorious service and for distinction in public or private endeavor.

Those holding a bachelor's degree wear a black gown fastened at the top, distinguished by long pointed sleeves hanging nearly to the knees. The master's gown, worn open, has long closed sleeves with an arc of a circle appearing near the bottom and a slit for the arm near the middle of the sleeves. The doctor's gown, usually worn open, is made of silk, faced with a broad strip of velvet, and has three bars of velvet on each sleeve.

A hood made of the same material may be worn with the gown. The bachelor's hood is three feet long, with a two-inch strip of velvet; the master's hood is three and one-half feet long, faced with a three-inch strip of velvet; the doctor's hood is four feet long, faced with a five-inch strip of velvet. The color of the tassel or the velvet strip on the hood indicates the field of study in which the degree was earned or granted, as for example: ARTS, white; SCIENCE, golden yellow; EDUCATION, light blue; ENGINEERING, orange; MUSIC, pink; LIBRARY SCHOOL, lemon yellow; BUSINESS, drab; JOURNALISM, crimson; LAW, purple; THEOLOGY, scarlet; PHILOSOPHY, dark blue. Each hood is also lined in silk with the colors of the institution which granted the degree, as for example, garnet and gold for Florida State University, orange and blue for the University of Florida.

The appropriate cap for all degrees is the familiar black "mortar board." A tassel, black or a color signifying the field of specialization, is worn hanging to the left of the face. Those holding a doctor's degree may wear a soft velvet cap of the color indicating their field of study, or with the mortar board, may wear a tassel in whole or in part of gold thread.

The mace, carried by the parade marshal, is a symbol of the authority vested in the college president. In medieval times, it was a weapon of war which was effective against the strongest armor and was used chiefly by knights. Maces were often borne by a royal bodyguard to protect the king in processions, but in the course of time (by the 14th century) they assumed more ceremonial functions and lost their warlike appearance. A mace is carried in academic and ecclesiastical processions, particularly in English-speaking countries.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

In the medieval universities, students and teachers wore gowns indicating their status and scholastic achievements. European institutions still show great diversity in the specifications of academic dress, but American colleges and universities preferred to adopt some definite system which all could follow. Accordingly in 1895, at Columbia University, an intercollegiate commission drafted a uniform code for the use of caps, gowns and hoods. These standards, with few revisions, are still in effect. Broward Community College will follow the Academic Costume Code.

Four academic degrees are generally recognized: the associate, the bachelor, the master, and the doctor. The associate degrees (associate in arts and associate in sciences) are offered by the standard two-year junior colleges. The other three are conferred by universities and colleges. The bachelor's, or baccalaureate, degree takes its name directly from the medieval practice of "bachelors" wearing a garland of bayberries. The master's degree was equivalent to a license to teach, and sometimes was followed by the express words Licentia Docendi. The doctor's degree was originally a title of respect, and a recognition of great learning. Today, the doctor's degree when earned by study indicates advanced study and independent research in a specialized field of learning. Honorary degrees are granted for meritorious service and for distinction in public or private endeavor.

Those holding a bachelor's degree wear a black gown fastened at the top, distinguished by long pointed sleeves hanging nearly to the knees. The master's gown, worn open, has long closed sleeves with an arc of a circle appearing near the bottom and a slit for the arm near the middle of the sleeves. The doctor's gown, usually worn open, is made of silk, faced with a broad strip of velvet, and has three bars of velvet on each sleeve.

A hood made of the same material may be worn with the gown. The bachelor's hood is three feet long, with a two-inch strip of velvet; the master's hood is three and one-half feet long, faced with a three-inch strip of velvet; the doctor's hood is four feet long, faced with a five-inch strip of velvet. The color of the tassel or the velvet strip on the hood indicates the field of study in which the degree was earned or granted, as for example: ARTS, white; SCIENCE, golden yellow; EDUCATION, light blue; ENGINEERING, orange; MUSIC, pink; LIBRARY SCHOOL, lemon yellow; BUSINESS, drab; JOURNALISM, crimson; LAW, purple; THEOLOGY, scarlet; PHILOSOPHY, dark blue. Each hood is also lined in silk with the colors of the institution which granted the degree, as for example, garnet and gold for Florida State University, orange and blue for the University of Florida.

The appropriate cap for all degrees is the familiar black "mortar board." A tassel, black or a color signifying the field of specialization, is worn hanging to the left of the face. Those holding a doctor's degree may wear a soft velvet cap of the color indicating their field of study, or with the mortar board, may wear a tassel in whole or in part of gold thread.

The mace, carried by the parade marshal, is a symbol of the authority vested in the college president. In medieval times, it was a weapon of war which was effective against the strongest armor and was used chiefly by knights. Maces were often borne by a royal bodyguard to protect the king in processions, but in the course of time (by the 14th century) they assumed more ceremonial functions and lost their warlike appearance. A mace is carried in academic and ecclesiastical processions, particularly in English-speaking countries.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

In the medieval universities, students and teachers wore gowns indicating their status and scholastic achievements. European institutions still show great diversity in the specifications of academic dress, but American colleges and universities preferred to adopt some definite system which all could follow. Accordingly in 1895, at Columbia University, an intercollegiate commission drafted a uniform code for the use of caps, gowns and hoods. These standards, with few revisions, are still in effect. Broward Community College will follow the Academic Costume Code.

Four academic degrees are generally recognized: the associate, the bachelor, the master, and the doctor. The associate degrees (associate in arts and associate in sciences) are offered by the standard two-year junior colleges. The other three are conferred by universities and colleges. The bachelor's, or baccalaureate, degree takes its name directly from the medieval practice of "bachelors" wearing a garland of bayberries. The master's degree was equivalent to a license to teach, and sometimes was followed by the express words Licentia Docendi. The doctor's degree was originally a title of respect, and a recognition of great learning. Today, the doctor's degree when earned by study indicates advanced study and independent research in a specialized field of learning. Honorary degrees are granted for meritorious service and for distinction in public or private endeavor.

Those holding a bachelor's degree wear a black gown fastened at the top, distinguished by long pointed sleeves hanging nearly to the knees. The master's gown, worn open, has long closed sleeves with an arc of a circle appearing near the bottom and a slit for the arm near the middle of the sleeves. The doctor's gown, usually worn open, is made of silk, faced with a broad strip of velvet, and has three bars of velvet on each sleeve.

A hood made of the same material may be worn with the gown. The bachelor's hood is three feet long, with a two-inch strip of velvet; the master's hood is three and one-half feet long, faced with a three-inch strip of velvet; the doctor's hood is four feet long, faced with a five-inch strip of velvet. The color of the tassel or the velvet strip on the hood indicates the field of study in which the degree was earned or granted, as for example: ARTS, white; SCIENCE, golden yellow; EDUCATION, light blue; ENGINEERING, orange; MUSIC, pink; LIBRARY SCHOOL, lemon yellow; BUSINESS, drab; JOURNALISM, crimson; LAW, purple; THEOLOGY, scarlet; PHILOSOPHY, dark blue. Each hood is also lined in silk with the colors of the institution which granted the degree, as for example, garnet and gold for Florida State University, orange and blue for the University of Florida.

The appropriate cap for all degrees is the familiar black "mortar board." A tassel, black or a color signifying the field of specialization, is worn hanging to the left of the face. Those holding a doctor's degree may wear a soft velvet cap of the color indicating their field of study, or with the mortar board, may wear a tassel in whole or in part of gold thread.

The mace, carried by the parade marshal, is a symbol of the authority vested in the college president. In medieval times, it was a weapon of war which was effective against the strongest armor and was used chiefly by knights. Maces were often borne by a royal bodyguard to protect the king in processions, but in the course of time (by the 14th century) they assumed more ceremonial functions and lost their warlike appearance. A mace is carried in academic and ecclesiastical processions, particularly in English-speaking countries.
